AMONTILLADO ESCUADRILLA

WINE ENTHUSIAST

Michael Schachner, July 2017

90 Points

A pure refined bouquet of butterscotch, caramel, spice and dried apricot aromas is appealing. This feels elegant and complete. Flavors of toasted nuts, salt, malt and stone fruits finish long, properly sharp and nutty.

WINE ADVOCATE

Robert Parker, August 2012

94 Points

The most intense offering in this group is the dry non-vintage Rare Amontillado Escudrilla Solera Reserva. There is definitely some serious age on this solera. An amber color is followed by notes of nuts, salty sea breezes, sea weed and dried pit fruits.

Smoked almond, singed orange peel, date, salted caramel and toasted hazelnut notes all weave together here, with a flicker of sweetness through the finish as a green tea accent chimes in. Shows lovely range and elegance.
