This Wanaka winery's rieslings are always a treat. Subtle florals make the early running; in the mouth limey, minerally notes take over. This is a clean, lively style with plenty of sweetness and the necessary acidity to maintain vigour and freshness. The finish is juicy and long.

There's a wet rock after summer rain and a lime nuance to the scent and a tickle of spritz to the lime zest, nectarine and honeysuckle taste which is heading towards medium in sweetness level – like a German spatlese riesling – with acidity and sweetness in impeccable harmony. It seems light and delicate yet there is understated substance. I think it's just delightful.
