SONOMA COAST CHARDONNAY 2014

5 Stars & 93 Points

Rich and generous, this fabulously attractive chardonnay shows yellow peach, pineapple, vanilla and toasted hazelnut characters on the nose. The palate is beautifully ripe and rounded, and offers delectable fruit flavours with smooth texture, finishing persistent and creamy. At its best: now to 2018.

The bouquet is initially all about restraint. There's an intriguing oily character – hair oil maybe – and then peaches and cream. Initially quite citrusy in the palate then fattening up nicely with a touch of butterscotch together with peach, nectarine, vanilla and nutty oak and the finish is warm, rich and rounded with a touch of spice. From a cooler coastal-influenced site and aged in French and Hungarian oak, this fascinating chardonnay is not what we expect from Cali and definitely oozes class.
